La alta ruta

Maurice Chappaz

Summary

La alta ruta connects Chamonix with Zermatt through the solemn and beautiful emptiness of the glaciers. The focus of this book is not to make a list of snowy peaks and climbs, but to recreate "the absolute snowy desert". For mountaineers, these pages will revive what they have ever experienced in a very intense way; the rest of readers will be introduced to a true revelation of the altitude.

Contributor Bio

Maurice Chappaz studied law but was called away to war during his studies. He traveled and wrote after the war, ultimately becoming an author instead.

El club de los mentirosos

Mary Karr

Summary

The Liars' Club took the world by storm and raised the art of the memoir to an entirely new level, bringing about a dramatic revival of the form. Karr's comic childhood in an east Texas oil town brings us characters as darkly hilarious as any of J. D. Salinger's—a hard-drinking daddy, a sister who can talk down the sheriff at age twelve, and an oft-married mother whose accumulated secrets threaten to destroy them all. This book is an unsentimental and profoundly moving account of an apocalyptic childhood.

Contributor Bio

Mary Karr unleashed a revolution with her memoir. The Liar's Club was one of the bestselling books in the New York Times, and was named "Best Book of the Year" by various publications. The author is a professor at the University of Syracuse and has won many awards for her work.

Duelo

Eduardo Halfon

Summary

In Duelo, Eduardo Halfon's eponymous narrator travels to Poland, Italy, the U.S., and the Guatemalan countryside in search of secrets he can barely name. He follows memory strands back to his maternal roots in Jewish Poland and to the contradictory, forbidden stories of his father's Lebanese-Jewish immigrant family, specifically surrounding the long-ago childhood death by drowning of his uncle Salomón. As he goes deeper, he realizes that the truth lies buried in his own past, in the brutal Guatemala of the 1970s and his subsequent exile to the American South.

Contributor Bio

Eduardo Halfon studied industrial engineering at North Carolina State University and taught literature for eight years at Universidad Francisco Marroquín in Guatemala. He is the author of fourteen books and has won various awards for his work.

En el río del amor

Joseph Delteil

Summary

Baroque, full of sensuality and invention, Delteil developed his first book during the Russian revolution. Two young Bolshevik officials, Boris and Nikolai, who have made a pact to go on all their adventures together, arrive at the banks of the Amur river. There they meet Ludmila, a commander of a troop of women. Idealized and mythicized, both fall in love with the possibility of a wild love.

Contributor Bio

Joseph Delteil is a writer and poet. His first book attracted the attention of surrealists such as Louis Aragon and André Breton. He lived in Paris and worked on the surrealist magazine, Littérature, and published Jeanne d'Arc which won the Prix Femina. In 1937 he left Paris to write and live in southern France.
