

La moneda mágica

Columba Casillas, Rictus

Summary

La moneda mágica is a storybook that brings children and teens on an incredible journey through emblematic sites in downtown Mexico City, like the historic La Ópera cantina, the Interactive Museum of Economics, and the Bank of Mexico. In these stories, places, coins, and bills come to life to share their experiences in order to be remembered with the passage of time.

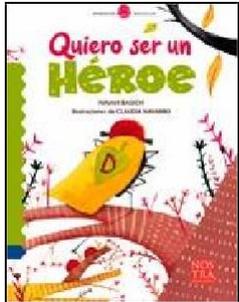

Contributor Bio

Columba Casillas has worked at the Bank of Mexico since 2001 and collaborated on the creation of the Interactive Museum of Economics. Rictus is a caricaturist who has published his cartoons in numerous media outlets. A recipient of the 2006 National Journalism Award, he currently has a daily column in Financiero Bloomberg.

Quiero ser un héroe

Ninah Basich, Claudia Navarro

Summary

Dita is very small, but that doesn't bother her: she has a very big wish and she'll do whatever it takes to make it come true—even if that means helping the worms and ants, or even training every day with the beetles. She's tired of weaving with her mom and grandma, since that takes up a lot of time she'd rather spend seeking out adventures.

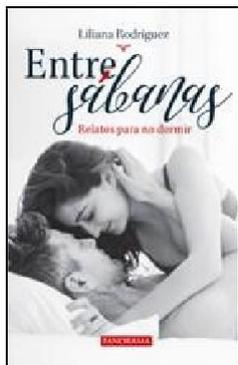

Contributor Bio

Ninah Basich is the winner of the 2016 FOEM international children's literature competition, the 2012 Mercosur children's book contest, and the 2007 Gerardo Cornejo Murrieta literature prize. Claudia Navarro has been featured nine times in Mexico's National Council for Culture and Arts general publication directory and has worked for various publishers. She is also the author of El regalo.

México, tierra inaudita

Relatos de un país inimaginable

Anibal Santiago

Summary

The people in this collection of 19 stories are neither celebrities nor important public figures—they're everyday Mexicans who experience violence, hunger, and transborder life; they're Mexicans who enjoy the excesses of celebrity and Acapulco; they're bureaucrats and salespeople who live modest lives. These stories are told in rich detail in search of the places and the people who make up the Mexican landscape but who might typically go unnoticed.

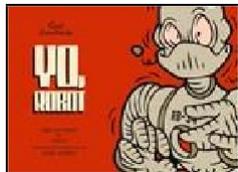

Contributor Bio

Anibal Santiago is a Mexican journalist and author. He received Mexico's National Journalism Award in 2007.

Yo, Robot

Raúl Curado

Summary

What do we talk about when we talk about artificial intelligence? Is it beings that are smarter than humans? Wiser, or more ethical? Would we be able to coexist with them and get past our presumption of superiority? Yo, Robot is three short stories based on the stories of Isaac Asimov and on his well-known laws of robotics: a robot may not injure a human being or, through inaction, allow a human being to come to harm; a robot must obey the orders given it by human beings except where such orders would conflict with the First Law; and a robot must protect its own existence as long as such protection does not conflict with the First or Second Laws.

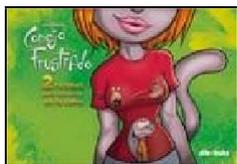

Contributor Bio

Raúl Curado is a Spanish designer and comic artist. He has created numerous comics, including a version of HP Lovecraft's The Case of Charles Dexter Ward and short stories about a character named Jack Palm. Yo, Robot is his first published work.

Desoriental

Negar Djavadi

Summary

At night, Kimiâ is an alt rock DJ. By day, she does artificial insemination treatments in order to have a child with her girlfriend Anna. Kimiâ is Iranian-born and fled to France with her family, and has kept a distance from her culture in order to enjoy her freedom. In a chauvinistic and racist France, it seems like her only solution is to "disorientalize" herself. Still, while she's waiting in the hospital, memories of the past start to invade.

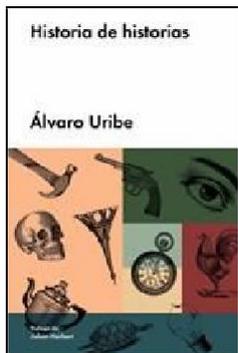

Contributor Bio

Négar Djavadi is an Iranian-born writer and director. Her family was in opposition to the Shah and Ayatollah Khomeini, so when she was 11 she fled Iran with her mother and sisters to Paris, where she lives currently. In 2005, she won the award for best first script for Après la pluie, les amoureux. She co-directed 4 femmes dans la vie, a TV series that earned an honorable mention at the La Rochelle festival.

Historia de historias

Álvaro Uribe

Summary

All 41 of Álvaro Uribe's stories are contained in this book; they're at once transparent and enigmatic, written by one of the best prose writers in the Spanish language. The precision and potency of his phrasing, and the almost mathematical precision of his words, is celebrated for good reason. No less noteworthy is his extravagant cast of characters: unborn children, friars, criminals, and philosophers star in these incredible stories that range from satire to fantasy, historical fables to metaphysical minifiction, and horror to mystery.

Contributor Bio

Álvaro Uribe is a Mexican author and essayist. His novel El taller del tiempo earned him an Antonin Artaud award, and in 2014 he won the Xavier Villaurrutia award for his novel Autorretrato de familia con perro.

Jane Eyre

Charlotte Brontë

Summary

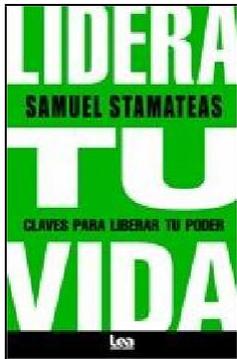

Widely regarded as a revolutionary novel, Brontë's masterpiece introduced the world to a radical new type of heroine, one whose defiant virtue and moral courage departed sharply from the more acquiescent and malleable female characters of the day. Passionate, dramatic, and surprisingly modern, Jane Eyre endures as one of the world's most beloved novels.

Contributor Bio

Charlotte Brontë was an English novelist and poet and her novel Jane Eyre quickly became a classic.

Perronautas

Greg van Eekhout

Summary

Ladito, Campeona, Bicho, and Margarita are Barkonauts, dogs especially trained to help human astronauts on missions in space. He and the crew aboard the spaceship Laika are en route to set up an outpost on a distant planet. When the mission takes a disastrous turn, the Barkonauts on board suddenly find themselves completely alone on their severely damaged ship. Survival seems impossible. But these dogs are Barkonauts—and Barkonauts always complete their mission.

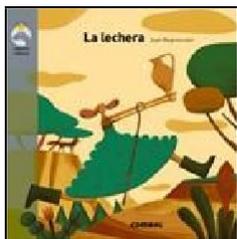

Contributor Bio

Siempre un destierro

Gabriela Couturier

Summary

How many times can a person be uprooted and expected to continue living? The roots were born in France but rummaging in the past may lead to more stories than they planned to face. Thus, the investigation of a certain letter, a certain trip, a certain marriage, brings with it the uncontrollable avalanche of the past: from Mexico City to the French colony in Veracruz, to the Savoyard towns in the middle of the Alps, to the military campaign in Algeria and Tunisia. A novel about identity, exile, uprooting, love, lost illusions and persistence of memory.

Contributor Bio

Gabriela Couturier received a degree in international relations from the Colegio de México and a master's in administration from Harvard University. She has published essays and stories in the magazine Nexos and in the newspaper Laberinto del Milenio. She is also the author of Esa otra orfandad.
